For Adults, Middles

The work of preparing the Will-

A Park Commission, composed of representatives of various civic organizations, was formed recently to encourage and assist the city in the establishment of a city recreational park. Members of the commission include Victor L.

Under present plans the land will be leveled and landscaped after the buildings are removed. When the sod is established playground equipment and other recreational facilities will be installed.

The city hopes to obtain a long-term lease on the baseball field adjoining the Smith Center so that it may be included in the playground grounds. Tentative plans are being made to employ a city supervisor to care for the field after it is ready for use.

South Bay Veteran Back From Wars

SOUTH BAY — Pfc. Donnie Godwin, veteran of 16 months' overseas service, during which he took part in the Normandy invasion and the lowlands campaign, and now hospitalized at Oliver General Hospital in Augusta, Ga., for wounds received while crossing the Rhine, is visiting his sister in South Bay, Mrs. Herdine Stanley.

Pfc. Godwin also was injured

After all his European experience, he narrowly escaped death from serious injury by a freak accident as the transport was mill-to New York harbor. He relates that the returning veterans were so transported with joy at the sight of the Statue of Liberty that they stampeded and he was accidentally hurled from the gang-plank, to catch himself many feet below on a cable, to which he clung until he could be rescued somewhat bruised, cut and shaken, but not seriously injured.

Cinematic Chatter

By Malcolm Millar

I laughed till the tears ran down my cheeks when I took a peek-see at "Andy Hardy's Blonde Trouble" at the Everglades Theatre, and I know you will enjoy this comedy to the utmost when it comes to the Prince Theatre this coming Sunday Monday.

In the cast are Mickey Rooney, Fred Stone, Fay Holden, Sara Haden and Herbert Marshall. The Wilde Twins are the most gorgeous blondes one would ever want to see and Miami should contract them for some of their publicity shots on the beach. When you see these bundles of pulchritudine "yum-yums" you'll agree that California has got something!

Of course Mickey gets himself into a pot of trouble over these two blondes, plus Bonta Granville (Who, by the way, I should be willing to get into trouble over) takes Marshall for a brother Wolf, grown up and more experienced, plus some college chums who risk Mickey into the trouble.

Certainly it has all got to be beautifully, which it does, so you can go home satisfied that this indeed was the way you would want it to come out, and that, further, you had seen one of the funniest

"Hardy series" comedies that has been made.

Tuesday-Wednesday brings the double feature fare with "Army Wives" first up. In the cast are Myra Loy, Marjorie Ransome, Rick Vallin, Hardie Albright. It is a comedy and is listed as "fair" in "the book." I have just finished the plot and find it interesting, with possibilities of being whipped into a very entertaining show.

On the same bill with this is "The Man in Half Moon Street," which stars and features Nils Asther, Helen Walker, Paul Cavanaugh and Morten Lowery.

This one has rather a weird plot. But being that a young man has discovered some means of prolonging life, but in order to successfully use his method he has to take the life of a young man, Herin lies the mystery, an young men begin dying each time he needs renew his youth. This and the thrilling method of his capture make for one of the most absorbing material ever screened.

Thursday-Friday also brings double features. First up is "Gypsy Wildcat" which stars Maria Montez and Jon Hall and features Peter Coe, Leo Carillo, Gale Sondergaard, Douglas Dumbrille and Carl Eads.

Place is done in Technicolor and places Maria Montez in the position of a gypsy girl who falls in love with Jon Hall, who is accused of murdering a count. She hides Jon, which places the gypsy tribe on the spot as they are accused of the murder.

Jon solves the murder and brings the guilty party to justice at the same time proving that Maria is really the daughter of the murdered nobleman and heir to the estate and his wealth. It's a nice story and I believe you'll like it.

Second picture up is "Rhodora in the Night" which stars Warner Baxter and Nina Foch.

This is another of the "Crime Doctor" series which launches an investigation into a more than unusually puzzling murder case. Baxter finds the criminal has been using an odd gas. In the end he discovers their plans, turns the tables, and captures the guilty party.

Saturday brings Dave O'Brien and Jim Neesham in "Gunsmoke Motel," which is a thrilling Western picture entirely satisfactory to all of the members of the Six Shooters Club.

See you at the movies—Mal.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

FRED: "Is it true, Judge, that a war can't be won without the use of war-alcohol... the kind the beverage distillers have been producing for the government for over two years?"

OLD JUDGE: "That's right, Fred. It is a basic ingredient in the smokeless powder used in virtually every firearm from a pistol to a 16-inch gun. And, in addition, it plays a more human role. The medical supplies which our military doctors use to alleviate pain, combat infection, save lives are prepared with war-alcohol."

FRED: "No wonder, then, more and more people are recognizing the great contribution our beverage distillers have made to the winning of the war with their double-duty product."

To GRANDMA
WINTER MEANT
A FRANKLIN STOVE...
SUMMER
A PALMETTO FAN...

To Grandma the changing seasons meant only two things... how to keep warm in winter, and how to keep cool in summer! In winter the old Franklin stove—Grandma's pride and joy—did the job in the parlor. The only trouble was that it over-heated one room... the rest of the house set everybody's teeth a-chattering!

In the summer Grandma had the old fashioned idea... she kept the house pretty well closed and sat in prim discomfort with her constant companion—a palmetto fan.

But to the modern man and woman, in home, office, store or manufacturing plant of today, the changing seasons mean nothing! For thanks to scientific Air Conditioning—the year 'round Air Conditioning—they have control of the weather... have found better health and comfort in the home... better working conditions and greater production in office and plant.

Yes, in the building of tomorrow... scientific Air Conditioning will be as much a part of the plan as the roof!

Right now Air Conditioning is at war... but Belcher has maintained its staff of consultants who are ready to talk with you, your architect or consulting engineer about your building plans for the future.

Deposits on Carrier Air Conditioning units are being taken now at Belcher Industries. Orders will be filled in sequence as soon as possible after Victory.

There's a telephone in the house where I am moving

Can you connect it for me?

The answer is: a telephone on the premises does not mean we can furnish you service without delay.

The telephone and other facilities used by the former resident who ordered the service discontinued are made available to meet the essential war demands or the next applicant on the waiting list.

If a later applicant were to take over the telephone in the house where he is moving, he would be receiving service ahead of the many others who have been waiting for a long period of time.

The patience and understanding of those now waiting for service is appreciated and they can be sure that they will be connected in their proper turn as fast as conditions permit.

Miss Maida Harrington Becomes Bride Of Pfc. Kenneth Earl Cooksey Of U. S. Army

The marriage of Miss Maida Harrington, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Harrington of Port Mayaca, and Pfc. Kenneth Earl Cooksey, U. S. Army, was solemnized at the Canal Point Methodist Church at 5:30 p. m. Sunday, June 17. Rev. Oliver Hatfield, pastor, read the vows at the single ring ceremony before an altar adorned with pink palms and ferns and decorated with white gladioli and tube roses. The altar was lighted with white tapers and the pews were marked with white satin bows.

Following the ceremony a program of musical music was presented by Mrs. H. C. Graham, pianist, who played "The Bells of St. Mary's," "The Sweetest Story Ever Told" and "Because." C. H. Coleman, vocal soloist, sang "Oh, Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Graham. The traditional wedding march was played by Mrs. Graham.

The bride was a picture of radiant loveliness as she approached the altar escorted by her father by whom she was given in marriage. They were met at the altar by the groom and his brother, Seaman E. Glenn Cooksey, who has been in the army since 1915.

The bride wore a gown of white embroidered tulle with a high collar, fitted bodice and fitted skirt. Her fingertip illusion veil was held in place by a coronet of orange blossoms and her only ornament was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the groom. She carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with an orchid and tube roses.

Miss June Sims, maid of honor, held the bride's only attendant. She was in a dress of blue and white, fashioned over tulle and wore a halo of pink roses and gerberas. She carried a bouquet made of the same flowers.

The bride's mother was attired in pink crepe with black accessories and wore a corsage of white carnations. Mrs. J. R. Cooksey, Jr., the groom's mother, was in navy blue sheer and wore a pink corsage.

A. R. Harrington, uncle of the bride, acted as usher.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held in the lovely Port Mayaca home of the bride's parents. Receiving were Mrs. J. R. Harrington, Mrs. J. R. Cooksey, Jr., and the bride and groom. Mrs. C. Lawton Sims also assisted in the receiving.

Miss Louise Sims was in charge of the bride's table. Guests were invited into the dining room by the hostesses, Mrs. C. G. Cooksey, Mrs. A. H. Scruggs and Mrs. A. R. Harrington. The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth centered with a candelabrum of lighted white tapers and tube roses and ferns. The beautiful three-tiered cake, embossed with wedding bells and topped with a miniature bride and groom, was served by Mrs. W. P. Jernigan.

The Misses Jeanne Shaughey and June Sims presided at the punch bowl.

Later in the evening Pfc. and Mrs. Cooksey departed on a brief wedding trip following which they will go to Turner Field, Albany, Ga., where he is now stationed.

Were a wave of persecution to sweep our country we'd rise with our life to resist it. We would have no one wondering whether or not we are for or against Christ. But that's only in the case of violent and open persecution. Those of us who would take such a stand then fail to realize the necessity of such a stand now. We don't realize passionately enough that even today most of our Christianity is a life or death proposition. We fail to feel that when we have not taken a definite stand for Christ we have most definitely taken one against Him. (I base that on Christ's own words.) I base that on our own hearts. I base that on our own consciences. I base that on our own souls. I base that on our own lives. I base that on our own deaths. I base that on our own eternities. I base that on our own souls. I base that on our own lives. I base that on our own deaths. I base that on our own eternities.

CANAL POINT BAPTIST CHURCH NOTES

I wondered the other night, "Suppose a wave of persecution swept across the Christian movement in America today. Suppose it became unlawful to hold Christian meetings, and Churches were destroyed. I wonder how many people would be willing to die in the resisting such a movement. I was somewhat optimistic and thought that perhaps I would be pleasantly surprised and encouraged by the number of people who would fling their whole life into a firm resistance against anything that might move to do away with Christianity. I believe that should that day come there would also come a vast army of fervent souls to offset it. My optimism finds its parallel in our nation after Pearl Harbor. How wonderful and fine it has been the way our people have been drawn together! Would not somewhat the same prevail religiously were a "Pearl Harbor" to sweep Christianity today?

And yet I think of that. I am appalled to think that in a way it is here. We talk about a definite stand for Christ.

Roy Pope and Dennis Wilson of Canal Point and Ronald Stanley of Pahokee, all members of the Pahokee High School 1916 graduating class, left on Thursday of this week to report for training in the Navy at the Jacksonville Naval Base.

COMMON SENSE REASONS

... why you as an American farmer should put every dollar you possibly can into War Bonds in the mighty 7th War Loan.

1 Formerly know that the demand for food is greater this year than ever before. And farmers are doing a magnificent job of producing it. The same urgent need applies to all war goods. For today the cost of the war is greater than ever.

Tons and tons of supplies must still flow to our millions of men in Europe. As you read this, still more tons must be shipped over the huge distances of the Pacific to our troops poised there already to begin the harvest. If we are not to let slip the opportunity to hit the Japs, hard—now we are at last in position to strike—we must supply these men with more of everything—new, harder hitting weapons... more powerful tanks... swift new giant planes... and more of them than ever before!

2 We must make sure that the tragic thousands of our wounded receive the best, most thorough care. That means money without stint—for bandages, medicines, for thousands and thousands of completely equipped first-aid stations, dozens of hospital ships, hundreds of hospitals.

3 Last year up to this time there had been 26 war loans. This year, to raise about the same amount of money, the 7th War Loan must do two jobs in one. And so your country is asking you to back up those American boys slugging it out in the front lines—by digging down deep and laying twice as many War Bonds as you did last time.

4 And when you put your money—every cent you can—into those bigger bonds in the big 7th War Loan, you'll be doing more than loaning cash for a vital, immediate war need—you'll be helping to fight the inflation that could wreck our nation's whole future. For money, in wartime when goods are scarce, tends to "bid up" the prices of things, the same as at an auction. Your War Bond will be safe and money, too, increasing in value until the time when you get back $4 for every $3 you invested.

5 The War Bonds you buy will mature in ten years to send you boy or girl through college... or to provide for your own security, for travel, or retirement.

6 Every $75 you put into a War Bond today will return you $100 at maturity; every $375 will yield you $500. And if you need to get your money back for an emergency—you can do so any time you wish 60 days after the bond is issued. War Bonds are really the same as a cash reserve for emergencies, except that they increase steadily in value, and because each one is registered, you won't lose your money through fire, theft, or loss of the bonds.

7 In the years after the war, when better-than-ever farm equipment will be available, your War Bonds will be a backlog for you to renew your machinery... to build that new barn... to improve your land.

But meantime—your idle dollars can be fighting dollars... put every one of them into the fight in the big Seventh War Loan!

Trade your folding money for fighting money!

Put every idle dollar on the line!
